The Ole' Guys

A good group of retirees met this month and discussed many topics. High on the topic list was the opportunities, like them or not, the data centers have created in our area to seize the IBEW electrical construction market.

Speaking with Training Director Paul Clemans, learning of the large number of apprentices accepted, we saw a bright future for our trade. Even with the uncertainty of AI, it seems to make sense that physical hands will be needed to implement these AI designs.

Come join us on November 11, at 2PM and discuss the results of the important November 3 election.
