Training Director's Report

In our efforts to prepare for the upcoming Apprenticeship classes, I don't want our Journeymen to think we have forgotten them.

We have several new online Journeyman classes starting up that I think will greatly enhance your skills and provide you with new certifications that may be needed in the future... so don't forget to read the training page. I also want to make sure you know, if you don't have a computer or internet access at home, you are welcome to coordinate a time to come into the Training Center and use one of our computers. We are dedicated to helping you!

Some of you are probably seeing some new faces around the jobsite. Please make sure you welcome our new apprentices and help them learn. Remember, you were once new at this too, so please be helpful.

As always, let me know if you have any suggestions.

The Ole' Guys

A large and talkative group of retired electricians showed up this month. A couple of new faces really added much to the story lines that were exchanged.

As usual a variety of topics were covered ranging from how the heart and kidneys work together, to opportunities to donate some time to a project at Safety City and the ballot measure in November to draw Fair Voting Districts. But the best time had was a group of old friends enjoying each other's company and realizing the importance of each day they are given. Thus, truly fulfilling and living the meaning of the word BROTHERHOOD in the IBEW.

Make the time to come join us on August 14 @ 2PM.
