I'm happy to announce a couple new classes that are now available. Construction Documentation and Transformer Code Calculations are both available online for a participation award of $100.00

There have been a few new classes added of the last few months. I encourage everyone to take a look at the list of classes offered. Refreshing your education and advancing your skills is always a great idea.

Have you checked your First Aid/CPR certification date lately? We can still get a few more in for the class that is scheduled on December 12th. If you are expired, please contact me so you can get into that class, or get the next class scheduled.

As always, if you have any ideas or suggestions, feel free to contact me.

The Ole' Guys

Another enjoyable and well attended group of electricians met in November and enjoyed snacks, stories and conversation. The conversations were wide ranging about current events, the aches and pains of aging, but seemed to focus on how times and work habits have changed.

We compared current wages and benefits to our working days and what seemed to be an enviable position for the local to be in. We all agreed that members should not take these times for granted because things can change.

Support Local 32 jobs, if only for the brothers and sisters who will fill the local jobs of the future.

See you fellow retirees on December 4 at Milano's.
